Dear Robin,

Got your letter, left it at home tho' so I'm operatin' off pure memory this fine Saturday morning.

I have been writing OWs for a week now and man, the people around me sure are alot easier to get along with. It's amazing how theraputic writing up some silly ole thang can help cure another's meanness. I'm hoping somebody somewhere is writing up stuff so I can be less mean.

My schedule now is 7-9 on OWs, 9-6:30 post, 7-11 my winter wonderland project (I'm a reg regging money) so if you don't see much in the way of communication from me in the next few weeks that is why. I am still planning on coming T-Giving weekend but I'm not sure yet as to my exact arrival date. I cannot wait to see you and fill you in on all the latest. Things change so rapidly daily it's hard to keep up.

I've taken on a few selectees while I'm at it, figger what the hell, them people gotta right to go free too!

Heber spoke at Graduation last night, what a personality! We are taking the psyches down fast and it's great to watch. Of course the next thing though is handling all the mess they've created. What dev-t, we should have been busier (me included) so this is what happens when we don't all put our shoulders together like LRH said we could to handle this.

The Dallas OT Committee desperately needs a reg on their org board, send me some names of some likely candidates that I can talk to about helping even 2 hours per week, those other guys need someone flanking them in raising money.

Tell everyone I said hello! Keep in comm. I love you bunches!

Love,

Lisa
